

COMMAND & CONTROL STRONG

Control systems keep balance & control over your assets & personnel. Using a large-scale video wall system can provide you multiple eyes in the sky to make real time decisions in critical moments. Keep calm & in control with a visual structure designed to keep you & your team always in the know.

+ CURVED LED CONTROL CENTER

A command and control room being built required a curved LCD video wall structure to be created to give better visibility to workers in the field. Custom brackets and adapters were designed and spaced out to create the curved look while Premier Mounts LMV video wall mounts were the perfect solution for the digital displays.

+ NASA

With the help from Premier Mounts, a NASA office was outfitted with a video wall structure that kept them prepared for their next launch. The structure itself was designed for a 6x2 LED video wall which gave the room complete control and oversight over their operations as well as creating better projections for future space exploration.

“The amount of design & thought that go into the mounts we use for a majority of our LED & some LCD products fit within our quality of product which is why I know when I spec a Premier mount whether it’s LCD or LED, Premier is my first call. Along with their “off the shelf” mount selection, the custom works they do for our request are met with precision & accuracy like no other.”
